

HUNTER IS SHOT
AFTER DISPUTE
OVER DEAD DEER

Donald Wolfe, 37, Spring Lake Park, Minnesota, son of Mrs. William B. Eckenrode, Buford avenue, remains a patient at the Fairview hospital in Minneapolis today while police and sportsmen continue a two-week search for a hunter who shot Wolfe twice and then left him for dead in the woods.

Wolfe, father of four children, was hunting in Mille Lacs county, Minn., November 15, when he became separated from his party. He was seeking to rejoin the party when a deer flashed by him, and he shot the animal.

As Wolfe came up to the deer another man stepped from the woods and claimed the animal, stating that it had been wounded previously by one of his party. The two argued over the deer, according to Minneapolis news dispatches, and Wolfe told the other hunter, "You'll take this deer only over my dead body."

Both shots near heart. The other man then raised his rifle and shot Wolfe above the heart. Wolfe, still standing, told the man, "You'll pay for this." The man answered, "Not from the shape you're in, buddy," and shot Wolfe again, this time below the heart. Wolfe then fell to the snow. The two shots were fired from very close range.

Mrs. Eckenrode flew to Minneapolis to be at her son's bedside.

After shooting Wolfe, the man walked away. Wolfe shouted for help. Later he apparently passed out and the other man returned, and using either a sled or skis, removed the deer. Police found that a wolf (Continued on page 7)

MONTH OPENS
ON COLD SNAP

December inaugurated its regime with the coldest night of the current winter. The thermometer dropped to 16 degrees early this morning and had struggled up to 33 degrees by noon time.

(By The Associated Press)
The cold wave which sent temperatures deep into the sub-zero ranges at many points in the mid-west yesterday morning had fanned out over the eastern seaboard and gulf states today.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said freezing weather was reported as far south as Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, where Rome had a low reading today of 24 degrees.

The worst sting of the eastward moving blast was felt throughout the New England states. With Greenville, Me., recording the nation's low reading of the day at zero. At Montpelier, Vt., the mercury slidded to one above zero and at Ithaca, N. Y., it was nine above.

Temperatures moderated rapidly throughout the midwest; yesterday and dipped no lower than 20 to 39 degrees generally last night. A further warming up was in prospect today with highs predicted in the upper 30s and low 40s except in areas where deep snow covering would retard the climb.

Skies were clear over most of the nation with only scattered snow flurries indicated for the Great Lakes region and light rain or snow in the Rocky mountain and Pacific northwest states.

OVER DEAD DEER

Donald Wolfe, 37, Spring Lake Park, Minnesota, son of Mrs. William B. Eckenrode, Buford avenue, remains a patient at the Fairview hospital in Minneapolis today while police and sportsmen continue a two-week search for a hunter who shot Wolfe twice and then left him for dead in the woods.

Wolfe, father of four children, was hunting in Mille Lacs county, Minn., November 15, when he became separated from his party. He was seeking to rejoin the party when a deer flashed by him, and he shot the animal.

As Wolfe came up to the deer another man stepped from the woods and claimed the animal, stating that it had been wounded previously by one of his party. The two argued over the deer, according to Minneapolis news dispatches, and Wolfe told the other hunter, "You'll take this deer only over my dead body."

Both Shots Near Heart
The other man then raised his rifle and shot Wolfe above the heart. Wolfe, still standing, told the man: "You'll pay for this." The man answered, "Not from the shape you're in, buddy" and shot Wolfe again, this time below the heart. Wolfe then fell to the snow. The two shots were fired from very close range.

Mrs. Eckenrode flew to Minneapolis to be at her son's bedside.

After shooting Wolfe, the man walked away. Wolfe shouted for help. Later he apparently passed out and the other man returned, and using either a sled or skis, removed the deer. Police found that a wolf (Continued on page 7)

MONTH OPENS
ON COLD SNAP

December inaugurated its regime with the coldest night of the current winter. The thermometer dropped to 16 degrees early this morning and had struggled up to 38 degrees by noon time.

(By The Associated Press)
The cold wave which sent temperatures deep into the sub-zero ranges at many points in the mid-west yesterday morning had fanned out over the eastern seaboard and gulf states today.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said freezing weather was reported as far south as Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, where Rome had a low reading today of 24 degrees.

The worst sting of the eastward moving blast was felt throughout the New England states, with Greenville, Me., recording the nation's low reading of the day at zero. At Montpelier, Vt., the mercury skidded to one above zero and at Ithaca, N. Y., it was nine above.

Temperatures moderated rapidly throughout the midwest yesterday and dipped no lower than 20 to 30 degrees generally last night. A further warming up was in prospect today with highs predicted in the upper 30s and low 40s except in areas where deep snow covering would retard the climb.

Skies were clear over most of the nation with only scattered snow flurries indicated for the Great Lakes region and light rain or snow in the Rocky mountain and Pacific northwest states.

PARTITION OF HOLY LAND BY UN HITS SNAG

By MAX HARRELSON

New York, Nov. 29 (P)—The bitter fight over the "Soviet-American" plan to partition Palestine was split wide open today as a result of Colombia's surprise move of yesterday to defer final United Nations action until spring.

As the United Nations assembly was called back into session at 4 p. m. (EST), after a 24-hour recess, Colombian Delegate Dr. Alfonso Lopez was reported to have raised up strong support, including the Arab-led anti-partitionists, for his plan of deferment.

The Arab countries met secretly last night and were slated to meet again before the assembly convened this afternoon. One informed source said the Arabs had decided not to take "too stiff" an attitude in the problem but that they had not yet decided whether to offer a proposal on their own account.

French Spring Surprise

This was taken as evidence of an apparent move by the Arabs to be more open to conciliation. Heretofore they have been adamant against any proposal except their demand for a single independent Arab nation in the Holy Land.

The Colombian proposal for delay was laid before the assembly late yesterday at Flushing Meadows Park when most delegates thought they were finally at the point of voting on the partition plan. Assembly President Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil already had predicted semi-privately that the partition would be approved.

Action on both the Colombian proposal and the partition plan was then side-tracked when the assembly approved a surprise French motion for a 24-hour recess so that a final effort at conciliation could be made between Arab anti-partitionists and Zionists favoring a pattern for the Holy Land that would establish Jewish and Arab nations.

Chapter 13

Charles Dawson lay on the sidewalk, enveloped in the darkness that had descended on him with the jolting impact of Harry Hawkins' fists.

"This is a sweet mess," Hawkins thought as he looked at the unconscious editor. "What in thunder am I going to do with him?"

He mused up Dawson's coat, pulled his tie to one side and put his hat on sideways. Then, carrying him along at his side, he walked across Sixth Avenue. A sleepy musician, homeward bound from a night club job, stood on the corner eyeing the pair.

"Pretty drunk, eh?" he asked Hawkins.

Hawkins nodded solemnly. "Out like a light," he affirmed. "What a party that was!"

The musician smiled wanly and Hawkins continued to drag his burden toward the TN offices. He got him into the elevator, winked at the operator, and carried Dawson into an unused file room, dumping his limp form on a stack of newspapers near the wall. He examined Dawson carefully for possible injuries, satisfied himself that he was unhurt. He flicked off the light switch and slipped out of the room.

O'Reilly, who had seen him enter the building, was waiting in the hallway.

"Now that you've checked your parcel, let's get going," he said tersely. "The Commissioner's office just called; the raids are getting underway."

"How about Jean?" Hawkins asked anxiously. "Suppose this lug wakes up before we get back; he might be mad enough to try anything."

"Haven't you heard about looks?" said O'Reilly. He opened the file room door wide enough to set the bolt, then closed it softly with a distinct click. "He won't wake up for a while, and if he does, nobody will hear him yell. He's on ice."

They ran to the elevators. O'Reilly puffing along at Hawkins' side.

"Jean's handling the rewrite for us," O'Reilly said. "I'll phone in as soon as the cops actually hit either club."

Hawkins and O'Reilly reached the Chez Biarritz just as a group of twenty men in plain clothes approached its entrance from different directions. No sirens sounded, and not a single police car was visible along the street. But every one of the twenty carried a gun as they moved forward in a silent wave.

"Look out," someone yelled suddenly from the club's front door. "Cops! It's a raid!"

Two husky men appeared in the doorway, attempting to shut the heavy double doors. Four detectives closed in—and there was a brief, fierce struggle. When it ended, the two were on the sidewalk and a dozen detectives swept through the door in a concerted rush.

O'Reilly ran back through an alley where a dozen more plainclothesmen had converged around a heavy steel door, the rear entrance of the club.

"Open up, in the name of the law!" someone shouted. No answer came from the darkened interior.

"All right, boys," said the officer commanding the detail. "Get those crowbars; we'll tear it off the hinges."

O'Reilly, meanwhile, followed the prearranged plan he had worked out with Hawkins and ran to the Cafe Castillo around the corner.

The Castillo's bouncer and two other thugs attempted to beat off another raiding squad with their fists. A stocky, thick-necked detective closed in on the bouncer, parrying his powerful right fist with a sharp thrust of his forearm. The detective countered with a jolt to the chin that dropped the bouncer completely out of the struggle. Four detectives clamped their hands around the arms of the other batters, pinning them down like butterflies on a specimen card. The fight was over. O'Reilly pushed into the club with the detective squad, stumbling through a flashlight-streaked gloom. A crowded mass of men and women milled around the room, screaming, shouting and diving under tables.

A detective, probing in the basement with his flashlight, found the light switch. He turned on every light in the club, flooding its interior with a brilliant, unwelcome glare.

"All right, everybody!" called out a detective captain. "Stand along that wall over there." He made a

XMAS BUYING TO SET NEW RECORD

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—Christmas buying will ring up new records on the cash register, but the government believes Santa Claus' generosity will be tempered by high prices.

Some officials predict his pack won't be as full as it was last Christmas.

At the commerce department, which keeps tabs on all retail sales, experts think November and December buying will match the gain shown in October when merchants took in a record-breaking $10,025,000,000, of 13 per cent more than in October, 1946.

At the Federal Reserve Board, which watches department store business, officials forecast the Christmas trade will run from 5 to 10 per cent higher than last year.

But such a gain, the Reserve men note, would mean an actual drop in the number of items sold because price rises have more than absorbed the higher rate of buying.

Total sales for the three-month holiday season will top $30,000,000,000 of the optimism of federal statisticians and their informants in the retail trade is justified. Last year's added up to $28,279,000,000, for October, November and December.

TWO SECTIONAL WINNERS CLASH FOR GRID TITLE

By TOM SHRIYER
Harrisburg, Dec. 1 (AP)—West Hazleton's Wildcats, champions of the Southern division, clash with the unbeaten Blakely Bears, Northern division title-holders, for the Eastern conference championship next Saturday at Hazleton high school field.

This game marks the end of the 1947 scholastic season in Pennsylvania, a season that resulted in at least 12 teams closing the regular season without defeat, and two more ending their regular campaign without a blemish, only to lose in post-season tilts.

New Kensington retained the Class AA crown in the WPIAL with a 28-0 victory over Har-Brack on Thanksgiving Day, to extend a two-year winning streak to 18 straight, ten this season. For Har-Brack the defeat ended a here-ofore unbeaten campaign that was one of the best in the school's history.

Class B Champions
Blairsville won the Class A crown in the WPIAL with a 25-14 victory over Shaler township, but the Bobcats were prevented from joining the ranks of the state's unbeaten when Indiana turned back their county rivals in a mid-season game. Masonstown earlier defeated Chartiers to win the Class B crown in the WPIAL.

Tyrone romped to the Western conference championship with an unbeaten season that was climaxed by a decisive victory at Dubois in the final game of the season.

Hanover won the South Penn conference championship without a setback, replacing Hershey in the well balanced circuit, while in the newly organized Central Penn conference the race wound up in a three-way deadlock involving Lebanon, Lancaster, and Steelton, all with one defeat on their conference record.

In addition to Blakely, New Kensington, Tyrone, and Hanover, the state's other perfect-season teams were Brownsville and McKeesport in the Class AA ranks of the WPIAL; Tarentum in Class A. Ranks of the WPIAL; Indiana, Clarion, Burnham, Clark Summit, and Lower Merion.

Lose In Playoff
Franklinboro, like Har-Brack, finished the regular season without defeat, but lost to Bellwood-Antis in a post-season playoff for the inter-county championship.

Bethlehem, unbeaten until the last game of the year, won the big fifteen team, but lost an inter-sectional tilt to New Castle on Thanksgiving Day to drop out of the unbeaten ranks.

Sharon, despite two losses, won the big eighteen crown in the northwest sector, noting out the Bradford Owls for the coveted crown.

SCHOENHERR IN SCORING LEAD

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The only grinder in the country with a chance to top Chuck Schoenherr's 115 points and become the nation's leading collegiate football scorer—Darin Horn—will attempt it Friday night when his Pepperdine team clashes with Loyola at Los Angeles.

None of the four players with 100 or more points performed last week-end. Schoenherr, of Wheaton (Ill.) college, retained his lead, followed by Wesley Luther, Minor, (N. D.) Teachers' college, with 112. Horn with 109 and Tom Ward, Hillsdale (Mich.) 106.

Last weekend's play saw few changes. Lt. Gambino of Maryland, southern conference leader, and Roy Preston of undefeated Missouri Valley, had scoreless days.

Other Leaders
Southern Methodist's Donk Walker retained eighth place in national standings but picked up two touchdowns and a point after touchdown against Texas Christian to boost his regular season total to 87 points.

George Grimes of Virginia wrestled southern independent laurels from teammate Grover Jones when he ran his total to 36 points two more than Jones. Charlie Conley of Mississippi broke his tie with teammate Barney Poole and Florida's Bobby Forbes with another touchdown to give him southeastern conference leadership with 54 points.

Forrest Griffith of Kansas picked up another touchdown to close out with 54 points as the big six leader, and J. R. Boone, Tulsa, added 12 points in his finale to wind up as Missouri Valley leader with 61.

OFFICIAL SUICIDES
Oil City, Pa., Dec. 1 (AP)—J. Frank Horner, 57-year-old Venango county commissioner, took his own life yesterday, deputy Coroner Theodore S. Gabreski reported. Horner's body, with a 38 caliber bullet in his head, was found in the cellar of his home at nearby Cranberry.

Miami Is Invited To Sun Bowl Game

Oxford, O., Dec. 1 (AP)—Miami university's athletic board today planned a special session to consider—and, from all indications, accept—an invitation extended to the tied team to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., New Year's Day.

The formal bid was telephoned yesterday to Head Coach Sid Gillman in Cleveland where he and other Miami officials attended a mid-American conference meeting. The call came from C. D. Belding, chairman of the Sun Carnival team selection committee.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—Now that the football season has everyone completely confused (the "regular" season goes on with such games as Notre Dame-Southern California but there also are two "Bowl" games this week) let's go indoors for an equally goofy basketball season.

Tulane opens the big-time double-header season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a squad of five New Orleans boys, 10 from Indiana and one each from Kentucky and Illinois. . . . Coach Cliff Wells tutored Indiana high school cagers for 29 years before going to Tulane. . . . And this isn't pointing the finger at Cliff, because everybody is getting them where he can these days. . . . The Garden schedule calls for eleven doubleheaders before Christmas. . . . Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, etc., all will be staging big-time pre-Christmas shows, but the topper comes from Peoria, Ill. . . . Bradley U., carrying on all by itself, will play three successive bargain bills with such teams as Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State and Texas Christian furnishing the main opposition, and then will go to Boston to play Harvard.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Frank Boucher, N. Y. Rangers' manager: "Hockey won't expand much until the visiting teams are given a cut in the gate receipts, as is done in baseball. . . . Baseball has been going on for a long time and baseball men ought to know what is good business."

MONDAY MATINEE
Ed Bang's Cleveland News fight show tomorrow presents four bouts that would be main events almost anywhere else, with Ezzard Charles vs. Fuzzy Fitzpatrick on top. . . . Emil Sitko, Notre Dame halfback, has been tabbed "six-yard" because his average gains for two years have been just about that. . . . Don Boven, who wound up the football season at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving Day, will head the Western Michigan basketball team when it invades the Garden next Saturday.

And Denver's Dick Yates is passing up a football trip to Hawaii to come east with the basketballers. . . . Branch Rickey, Jr., offers to bet the Pirates will finish in the first division next season, but he won't give away any likely trades by saying what the Bucs will finish with.

Says Resignation Of Kern To Stand

Morgantown, W. Va., Dec. 1 (AP)—As far as President Irvin Stewart of West Virginia is concerned, Football Coach Bill Kern's resignation stands—a reported petition by players to retain him notwithstanding.

The president said last night he had seen newspaper accounts that 22 Mountaineer gridders had petitioned for Kern's retention and at the same time demanded the ouster of Athletic Director Roy M. (Legs) Hawley.

The Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph had reported the petition was circulated after the Mountaineer victory of Pittsburgh university last Saturday by persons who identified themselves as members of "West Virginians, Inc."

However, title group's executive secretary, Sammy Pinnion said this name as a complete surprise to him. Coach Kern, the president said, had resigned before the game. "His resignation was accepted. The athletic situation is the same as it was before the game."

UNBEATEN AND UNTIED TEAMS

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—Southern Methodist has been scratched from the list of unbeaten and untied college football teams but little Missouri Valley of Marshall, Mo., has closed its books on another perfect season.

The unbeaten, untied list:

Team	pts. op.
Cameron (Okla.) Aggies	10 34 67
Missouri Valley	10 326 78
Michigan	9 345 53
Penn State	9 319 27
West Chester (Pa.) T.	9 179 43
Denison	9 274 54
Loras (Ia.)	9 210 51
Notre Dame	8 253 45
New Hampshire	8 241 49
Pepperdine	8 337 36
Jacksonville (Ala.) Tchrs.	8 211 31
Westleyan	7 141 28
Montclair (N.J.) Tchrs.	7 65 20

x-Denotes finished season.

SOUTHERN CAL VS IRISH ONLY BIG GAME LEFT

By WILL GRIMSLEY
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—They prepared the 1947 college football season for both balls today and the fans, left limp by one of the dizzier of campaigns, began collecting second wind for the bowl madness Jan. 1.

There is only one genuine pulse-quicker left on the regular schedule—that's Notre Dame's encounter with Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles. The handful of other remaining games are minor.

The unblemished fighting Irish will be out to clinch the mythical national championship by making a better showing against the onced-d Trojans than does Michigan in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

For weeks now it's been nip-and-tuck between Notre Dame and Michigan for the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll. A decisive victory Saturday might put the Irish in.

Year Of Surprises
But regardless of what occurs the rest of the way, the 1947 season already goes into the books as one crammed with surprises.

It was a year that saw Army, unconquerable for three seasons, lose two games and the two and then roar back for one magnificent afternoon to smother Navy, 21-0.

It was a year that saw Michigan return to preeminence in the Western conference and Southern Cal to supremacy on the West Coast to lay a star-spangled setting for the annual battle of roses at Pasadena.

Dark horses were the rule rather than the exception in emerging as sectional champions. In the Southeastern conference, where Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Georgia Tech have long been dominant, little Mississippi rode to the title crest, behind passing Charley Conner and snaggling Barney Poole by beating Mississippi State, 33-14. Mississippi will play TCU in Memphis Delta Bowl.

SMU Takes Lead
Southern Methodist, although tied, 19-19, in its final game by TCU, surprised by beating out Texas and Rice in the wide-open Southwest conference. SMU plays Penn State in the Cotton Bowl, William and Mary outdistanced favored North Carolina in the Southern.

The "surprise" theme prevailed right down through the last big Saturday.

Georgia Tech, slated for the Orange Bowl in Miami against Kansas, edged past Georgia, 7 to 0, and Kansas overwhelmed Arizona, 54 to 28. Alabama, which has a Sugar Bowl date with Texas in New Orleans, had anything but easy sailing in triumphing over Miami (Fla.), 21 to 6, Saturday night.

Sendoffs For Coaches
Texas Tech won a spot in the Sun Bowl by jolting favored Hardin-Simmons, 14-6, for the border conference championship.

Two teams gave their resigning coaches a good sendoff. Holy Cross won over favored Boston College, 20 to 6, for Oz Dagrosa, and West Virginia's Mountaineers, whose coach Bill Kern quit last week, rounched Pittsburgh, 17 to 2—the first West Virginia win over Pitt in 19 years.

North Carolina State held favored Maryland to a scoreless tie. Fordham and N. Y. U. wrangled to a 13-13 draw in the clash of defeated metropolitan powers. Fast finishing Tennessee outlasted Vanderbilt, 12 to 7. North Carolina won over Virginia, 40 to 7, in a Southern conference duel and handed Kansas State its 26th straight setback, 25 to 7.

Rice topped Baylor with a fast finish, 34 to 6; Oklahoma conquered Oklahoma A. and M. 21 to 13; West Texas State whipped New Mexico, 28 to 18; Oregon State licked Nebraska, 27 to 6, and Michigan State defeated Hawaii in the islands, 58 to 19.

COLORADO NOW BIG 6 MEMBER

Kansas City, Dec. 1 (AP)—The University of Colorado officially became a member of the Big Six conference (Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic association) today, marking the first expansion of the league since it began operations in 1928.

The seven-team circuit will continue to be known as the Big Six until someone comes up with a name that proves popular over the area. The conference's faculty committee, which voted membership to Colorado at its March 1 meeting, has declined to offer a new nickname for the league.

Colorado's first activity as a Big Six member will be Saturday night when the Buffalo basketball team meets Colorado A. and M. at Boulder, home of the new Big Six.

NEW TAX READY
Pittsburgh, Dec. 1 (AP)—Ordinances enacting the first mercantile, amusement and personal property taxes in Pittsburgh's history today awaited the signature of Mayor David L. Lawrence. The levies were passed by city council Saturday to finance a record $31,000,000 budget.

USC SETS MARK IN ATTENDANCE

By BOB MYERS
Los Angeles, Dec. 1 (AP)—Southern California's Trojans may not have much to cheer about after its 19th annual game with Notre Dame except what undoubtedly will be a football attendance record.

Barring bad weather Saturday the Trojans in two successive games will have performed before more than 200,000 spectators.

To carry the matter on to New Year's Day and the Rose Bowl contest with Michigan, USC in three successive appearances will have played before nearly 300,000.

The count: USC-UCLA on Nov. 22—102,933; 102,000-plus for the USC-Notre Dame game, and 92,000-plus in the Rose Bowl.

Gross Over Million
And to drag in sordid money matters, the total gross will aggregate around $1,000,000.

Today the Trojan squad ended a week-end holiday and got down to work for the Irish game. The smart boys have installed Notre Dame as 13½ point favorites to carry their winning streak on to 18 games, which stretches back to 1945.

Frank Leahy's crew comes here with no less than 24 players of the 1947 outfit which turned back USC last year, 26-6, including Johnny Lujack, Terry Brennan and 10 other backs who played in that game.

The record for the series stands: Notre Dame 11 wins, six defeats, and one tie, in 1936. That was the year Notre Dame registered 18 first downs, USC one (and that on a penalty), but the luck of the Irish failed to prevail.

EAGLES DEFEAT STEELERS, TAKE DIVISION LEAD

By RALPH RODEN
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Browns will collide for the All-American Football conference championship December 14 for the second straight year and the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles are on the threshold of meeting for the rival National League's diadem a week later.

The Yanks, led by Spec Sanders and Budny Young, won their second straight Eastern division title yesterday by crushing the runner-up Buffalo Bills, 35-13, at the Yankee Stadium.

Meanwhile, the Eagles took over first place in the National's Eastern division scramble from the injury-riddled Pittsburgh Steelers by blanking the Steelers 21-0 at Philadelphia.

The Eagles are only a half game ahead of the Steelers but they have two games to play while the Steelers have only one. One more Eagle triumph will assure them of no worse than a tie for the crown.

Joe Muma spearheaded the Eagle triumph by scoring one touchdown and setting up another with a 59-yard quick kick before a record 31,814 fans.

Clements Out Of Game
The Steelers, playing without their injured star back, Johnny Clements, threatened only once when Bill Moore recovered a fumble on the Eagle 19.

In the western half flag chase, the idle Bears took a one game lead over the Chicago Cardinals as the Redskins were upset, 35-21, by the Eastern division's tallest giants in New York.

Both the Bears and Cards have two games to play, including a meeting with each other on the last day of the season. The Cards are confronted with a difficult assignment as they meet the Eagles next Sunday in Philadelphia before their clash with the Bears.

In the remaining National league games the Boston Yanks knocked out the Washington Redskins, 27-24, and the Green Bay Packers cuffed the Los Angeles Rams, 30-10, while in the other All-America tilt, the Baltimore Colts downed the Chicago Rockets, 14-7.

The Colts and Rockets, eastern and western cellar occupants respectively in the All-America, put on a thriller at Baltimore with the Colts finally winning in the last period when Bud Schwent hit Billy Hillenbrand in the end zone with a pass.

ARMY TO LOSE BUT 3 PLAYERS

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—As Capt. Tom Hamilton, coach of the Navy football team, left the dressing room at Philadelphia Saturday, a 10-year-old youngster dressed in a sailor uniform edged up to him and said defiantly, "wait until next year. We'll get Army."

But the youngster obviously hadn't read the squad statistics in the program he was carrying. They would have told him that eight of the 11 starters for Army in the Cadets' 21 to 0 triumph will be back next year for another waack at the Mudcats, now beaten four straight years in the traditional service school clash.

Elwyn (Rip) Rowan, the 172-pound fullback who romped 92 yards for the second touchdown; Capt. Joe Steffy, guard who converted all three touchdowns; and Goble Bryant, tackle, are the three regulars who have played their final game for the Cadets. Harvey Liveness, second string center, and Ray Drury a guard, also will be lost.

Nor had the youngsters heard Hamilton answer reporters a few seconds before that he wasn't certain he would be back at Navy next fall.

The Navy coach said that the customary three-year shore leave granted Middle graduates to coach their alma mater was not mandatory and that often it had been cut to two. Hamilton finished his second year yesterday. His teams have won but one game each season.

DRIVE OVER TOP

Meadville, Pa., Dec. 1 (AP)—The campaign for funds to build a new Crabbs home for the aged went over the top with $515,626 subscribed today in a $500,000 drive conducted among Erie Conference Methodists. The Rev. George Palmer, of Oil City, chairman of the drive, said he expected the campaign to reach $550,000 when all pledges are in. The drive ended at midnight last night.

Hornets Burn Up Western Division

(By The Associated Press)
The Pittsburgh Hornets continue to burn up the western division of the American Hockey league while the Hershey Bears and the Providence Reds are waging a nip and tuck battle for eastern half honors.

Pittsburgh defeated the New Haven Ramblers, 3-1, last night to boost its front-running margin to six points over the second place Buffalo Bisons.

Buffalo turned back the Philadelphia Rockets, 7-4, with Len Halderson netting what proved to be the winning marker early in the third period.

TWO SECTIONAL WINNERS CLASH FOR GRID TITLE

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Dec. 1 (AP)—West Haden's Wildcats, champions of the southern division, clash with the unbeaten Blakely Bears, Northern division title-holders, for the Eastern conference championship next Saturday at Hazleton high school field.

This game marks the end of the 1947 scholastic season in Pennsylvania, a season that resulted in at least 12 teams closing the regular season without defeat, and two more ending their regular campaign without blemish, only to lose in post-season tilts.

New Kensington retained the Class AA crown in the WPIAL with a 28-0 victory over Har-Brack on Thanksgiving Day, to extend a two-year winning streak to 18 straight. This season, For Har-Brack the defeat ended a heretofore unbeaten campaign that was one of the best in the school's history.

Class B Champions
Blairsville won the Class A crown in the WPIAL with a 25-14 victory over Shaler township, but the Bobcats were prevented from joining the ranks of the state's unbeaten when Indiana turned back their county rivals in a mid-season game. Masontown earlier defeated Chambers to win the Class B crown in the WPIAL.

Tyrone romped to the Western conference championship with an unbeaten season that was climaxed by a decisive victory at Dubois in the final game of the season.

Hanover won the South Penn conference championship without a setback, replacing Hershey in the well balanced circuit, while in the newly organized Central Penn conference the race wound up in a three-way deadlock involving Lebanon, Lancaster, and Steelton, all with one defeat on their conference record.

In addition to Blakely, New Kensington, Tyrone, and Hanover, the state's other perfect-season teams were Brownsville and McKeesport in the Class AA ranks of the WPIAL; Tarentum in Class A; and the WPIAL; Indiana, Clarion, Burnham, Clarks Summit and Lower Merion.

Lose In Playoff
Franklin Boro, like Har-Brack, finished the regular season without defeat, but lost to Bellwood-Antis in a postseason playoff for the inter-county championship.

Bethlehem, unbeaten until the last game of the year, won the big fifteen crown, but lost an inter-sectional tilt to New Castle on Thanksgiving Day to drop out of the unbeaten ranks.

Sharon, despite two losses, won the big eighteen crown in the northwest sector, nosing out the Bradford Owls for the coveted crown.

SCHOENHERR IN SCORING LEAD

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The only grinder in the country with a chance to top Chuck Schoenherr's 115 points and become the nation's leading collegiate football scorer—Darwin Horn—will attempt it Friday night when his Pepperdine team clashes with Loyola at Los Angeles.

None of the four players with 100 or more points performed last weekend. Schoenherr, of Wheaton (Ill.) college, retained his lead, followed by Wesley Luther, Minot, (N. D.) Teachers' college, with 112, Horn with 109 and Tom Ward, Hillsdale (Mich.) 108.

Last weekend's play saw few changes. Lu Gambino of Maryland, southern conference leader, and Roy Preston of undefeated Missouri Valley, had scoreless days.

Other Leaders
Southern Methodist's Doak Walker retained eighth place in national standings but picked up two touchdowns and a point after touchdown against Texas Christian to boost his regular season total to 87 points.

George Grimes of Virginia wrestled southern independent laurels from teammate Grover Jones when he ran his total to 56 points more than Jones. Charlie Conerly of Mississippi broke his tie with teammate Barney Poole and Florida's Bobby Forbes with another touchdown to give him southeastern conference leadership with 54 points.

Forrest Griffith of Kansas picked up another touchdown to close out with 54 points as the big six leader, and J. R. Boone, Tulsa, added 13 points in his finale to wind up as Missouri Valley leader with 61.

OFFICIAL SUICIDES
Oil City, Pa., Dec. 1 (AP)—J. Frank Honner, 57-year-old Venango county commissioner, took his own life yesterday, deputy Coroner Theodore S. Gabreski reported. Honner's body, with a .38 caliber bullet in his head, was found in the cellar of his home at nearby Cranberry.

Miami Is Invited To Sun Bowl Game

Oxford, O., Dec. 1 (AP)—Miami university's athletic board today planned a special session to consider—and, from all indications, accept—an invitation extended to the tied team to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., New Year's Day.

The formal bid was telephoned yesterday to Head Coach Sid Gillman in Cleveland where he and other Miami officials attended a mid-American conference meeting. The call came from C. D. Belding, chairman of the Sun Carnival team selection committee.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—Now that the football season has everyone completely confused (the "regular" season goes on with such games as Notre Dame-Southern California but there also are two "Bowl" games this week) let's go indoors for an equally goofy basketball season.

Tulane opens the big-time double-header season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a squad of five New Orleans boys, 10 from Indiana and one each from Kentucky and Illinois. Coach Cliff Wells tutored Indiana high school chaffers for 29 years before going to Tulane. And this isn't pointing the finger at Cliff, because everybody is getting them where he can these days. The Garden schedule calls for eleven doubleheaders before Christmas. Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, etc., all will be staging big-time pre-Christmas shows, but the topper comes from Peoria, Ill. Bradley U., carrying on all by itself, will play three successive bargain bills with such teams as Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State and Texas Christian furnishing the main opposition, and then will go to Boston to play Harvard.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Frank Boucher, N. Y. Rangers' manager: "Hockey won't expand much until the visiting teams are given a cut in the gate receipts, as is done in baseball. Baseball has been going on for a long time and baseball men ought to know what is good business."

MONDAY MATINEE
Ed Bang's Cleveland News fight show tomorrow presents four bouts that would be main events almost anywhere else, with Ezzard Charles vs. Fitz Fitzpatrick on top.

Emil Sitko, Notre Dame halfback, has been tabbed "six-yard" because his average gains for two years have been just about that. Don Boven, who wound up the football season at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving Day, will head the Western Michigan basketball team when it invades the Garden next Saturday.

And Denver's Dick Yates is passing up a football trip to Hawaii to come east with the basketballers. Branch Rickey, Jr., offers to bet the Pirates will finish in the first division next season, but he won't give away any likely trades by saying what the Bucs will finish with.

Says Resignation Of Kern To Stand

Morgantown, W. Va., Dec. 1 (AP)—As far as President Irvin Stewart of West Virginia is concerned, Football Coach Bill Kern's resignation stands—a reported petition by players to retain him notwithstanding.

The president said last night he had seen newspaper accounts that 22 Mountaineer gridders had petitioned for Kern's retention and at the same time demanded the ouster of Athletic Director Roy M. (Legs) Hawley.

The Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph had reported the petition was circulated after the Mountaineer victory of Pittsburgh university last Saturday by persons who identified themselves as members of "West Virginians, Inc."

However, the group's executive secretary, Sammy Pinnion said this came as a complete surprise to him. Coach Kern, the president said, had resigned before the game. "His resignation was accepted. The athletic situation is the same as it was before the game."

UNBEATEN AND UNTIED TEAMS

By WILL GRIMSLEY
New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—They prepared the 1947 college football season for moth balls today and the fans, left limp by one of the dullest of campaigns, began collecting second wind for the bowl madness Jan. 1.

There is only one genuine pulse-quicker left on the regular schedule—that's Notre Dame's encounter with Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles. The handful of other remaining games are minor.

The unblemished fighting Irish will be out to clinch the mythical national championship by making a better showing against the onced-trojan than does Michigan in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

For weeks now its been nip-and-tuck between Notre Dame and Michigan for the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll. A decisive victory Saturday might put the Irish in.

Year Of Surprises
But regardless of what occurs the rest of the way, the 1947 season already goes into the books as one crammed with surprises.

It was a year that saw Army, unconquerable for three seasons, lose two games and tie two and then roar back for one magnificent afternoon to smother Navy, 21-0.

It was a year that saw Michigan return to preeminence in the Western conference and Southern Cal to supremacy on the West Coast to lay a star-spangled setting for the annual battle of roses at Pasadena. Dark horses were the rule rather than the exception in emerging as sectional champions.

In the Southeastern conference, where Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Georgia Tech have long been dominant, little Mississippi rode to the title crest behind passing Charley Conerly and snagging Barney Poole by beating Mississippi State, 33-14. Mississippi will play TCU in Memphis Delta Bowl.

SMU Takes Lead
Southern Methodist, although tied, 19-19, in its final game by TCU, surprised by beating out Texas and Rice in the wide-open Southwest conference. SMU plays Penn State in the Cotton Bowl. William and Mary outdistanced favored North Carolina in the Southern.

The "surprise" theme prevailed right down through the last big Saturday.

Georgia Tech, slated for the Orange Bowl in Miami against Kansas, edged past Georgia, 7 to 0, and Kansas overpowered Arizona, 54 to 28. Alabama, which has a Sugar Bowl date with Texas in New Orleans, had anything but easy sailing in triumphing over Miami (Fla.), 21 to 6, Saturday night.

Sends For Coaches
Texas Tech won a spot in the Sun Bowl by jolting favored Hardin-Simmons, 14-6, for the border conference championship.

Two teams gave their resigning coaches a good sendoff. Holy Cross won over favored Boston College, 20 to 6, for Ox Dagrosa, and West Virginia's Mountaineers, whose coach Bill Kern quit last week, trounced Pittsburgh, 17 to 2—the first West Virginia win over Pitt in 19 years.

North Carolina State held favored Maryland to a scoreless tie. Fordham and N. Y. U. wrangled to a 13-13 draw in the clash of defeated metropolitan powers.

Fast finishing Tennessee outlasted Vanderbilt, 12 to 7. North Carolina won over Virginia, 40 to 7, in a Southern conference duel and handed Kansas State its 26th straight setback, 25 to 7.

Rice topped Baylor with a fast finish, 34 to 6; Oklahoma conquered Oklahoma A. and M., 21 to 13; West Texas State whipped New Mexico, 28 to 17; Oregon State licked Nebraska, 28 to 6, and Michigan State defeated Hawaii in the Islands, 58 to 19.

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—As Capt. Tom Hamilton, coach of the Navy football team, left the dressing room at Philadelphia Saturday, a 10-year old youngster dressed in a sailor uniform edged up to him and said defiantly, "wait until next year. We'll get Army."

But the youngster obviously hadn't read the squad statistics in the program he was carrying. They would have told him that eight of the 11 starters for Army in the Cadets' 21 to 0 triumph will be back next year for another wanuk at the Midgies, now beaten four straight years in the traditional service school clash.

Elwyn (Rip) Rowan, the 172-pound fullback who reaped 92 yards for the second touchdown; Capt. Joe Steffy, guard who converted all three touchdowns; and Goble Bryant, tackle, are the three regulars who have played their final game for the Cadets. Harvey Livesay, second string center, and Ray Drury, a guard, also will be lost.

Nor had the youngsters heard Hamilton answer reporters a few seconds before that he wasn't certain he would be back at Navy next fall.

The Navy coach said that the customary three-year shore leave granted Middle graduates to coach their alma mater was not mandatory and that often it had been cut to two. Hamilton finished his second year yesterday. His teams have won but one game each season.

DRIVE OVER TOP

Meadville, Pa., Dec. 1 (AP)—The campaign for funds to build a new Cribbs home for the aged went over the top with $515,626 subscribed today in a $500,000 drive conducted among Erie Conference Methodists.

The Rev. George Palmer, of Oil City, chairman of the drive, said he expected the campaign to reach $550,000 when all pledges are in. The drive ended at midnight last night.

Nearly half of the world's land area is largely uninhabitable because of deserts, mountains, ice or tundra.

Dorsey-Stanton Five Loses 93-28 Game

The Dorsey-Stanton Legion basketball team dropped a 93-28 decision to the Crispus Attucks quintet of York on the Hotel Gettysburg annex floor Saturday evening.

The Attucks cagers held a commanding 40 to 17 lead at the half and their offensive play was even more spectacular in the final two periods as they added to their decided margin by outscoring the locals 53-11.

Hornets Burn Up Western Division

(By The Associated Press)
The Pittsburgh Hornets continue to burn up the western division of the American Hockey league while the Hershey Bears and the Providence Reds are waging a nip and tuck battle for eastern half honors.

Pittsburgh defeated the New Haven Ramblers, 3-1, last night to boost its front-running margin to six points over the second place Buffalo Bisons.

Buffalo turned back the Philadelphia Rockets, 7-4, with Len Halderson netting what proved to be the winning marker early in the third period.

Meanwhile, the Reds pulled into a first place tie with the Bears for the eastern half lead by out-scoring the Springfield Indians, 8-6, while the Bears battled the Indianapolis Capitals to a 1-1 tie.

In the remaining game, the up and coming Cleveland Barons trounced the Flyers, 7-2, in St. Louis with Fred Thurier leading the way by scoring three goals.

Ernst Lubitsch Dies On Sunday

Hollywood, Dec. 1 (AP)—Death has taken Ernst Lubitsch, the producer whose deft handling of motion picture situations made the term "the Lubitsch touch" synonymous with sophistication in the film industry.

Lubitsch, 55, who elevated many a player to stardom and enhanced the reputation of many another who had gained fame before coming under his aegis, died yesterday after suffering a heart attack.

Pola Negri became a star under his direction. He directed Emil Jannings in early films. Mary Pickford for many years preferred him as a director. At his death he was directing a color film starring Betty Grable and young Douglas Fairbanks.

Among his scores of picture credits are "Ninotchka," "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," "Cluny Brown," "Heaven Can Wait," "The Marriage Circle," "Student Prince," "The Merry Widow," and "The Smiling Lieutenant."

Bomber Hits Busy Washington Span

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—A Navy torpedo bomber today crashed into one of Washington's busiest bridges during a busy hour—and no one was seriously injured.

The plane—which the Navy says it believes was piloted by Lt. S. T. Bittling—almost cleared the bridge. But one wing caught, and the plane looped across the bridge which spans the Anacostia river just above its juncture with the Potomac.

Witnesses said it was obvious that the plane was in trouble, and that hence traffic had stopped. Otherwise, the plane might have smashed into two lanes of traffic.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

HILLS AND HOMES

Traveling to the interesting town of Hanover, New Hampshire, where Dartmouth College is located, I passed through Connecticut and Massachusetts into the hills and homes that make Vermont and New Hampshire so notable. I have known it all in its new Spring outfit, and have looked upon it in its colorful golden Autumn, but this time, a light covering of snow gave a new and beautiful view to the countryside.

Grey blue clouds hovered about the hills and crept silently into the valleys and spread a musical mist about the waterways and the Connecticut River. The white homes and the red barns, the winding roads, the bare trees resting for another Springtime, and the overall sturdiness of the landscape, which has so influenced the New England character were all most inspiring. I thought of the poems that Robert Frost had written, immortalizing both Vermont and New Hampshire, and other parts of this early American scene.

I talked with many people—many of the natives—and they are a brave substantial lot. Incidentally, I took the week-end to see the Dartmouth-Cornell football contest, which was a thriller, and incidentally, I wanted to visit my friends at Dartmouth College, and incidentally, I wanted to gain a spiritual uplift. I won on all counts!

I wish that the Politiboro of Russia could have taken such a trip as I did. There would have been no armed guard following them, or interfering with their visit. They could have poked into any area and learned much. All folks whom they would have met would have been friendly and cordial, as well as hospitable. They would have seen much that would have reminded them of the countryside of Russia, but the people would have shown them quite a contrast under their free way of life. The great wealth of this section lies in the character and sturdiness of the people who farm and work, and who send their children out into the wide world as benefactors to all humanity. But what impressed me most were the hills and the homes, dotted all over this interesting and beautiful country. It's a section of America to visit—to love, and cherish as an inheritance of freedom.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Death of Horace Greeley: Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune, and recent candidate for President, died on Friday evening in the private insane asylum of Dr. Choate, near Tarrytown, New York. It seems to be conceded that his death was the result of acute mania, brought on by intense mental excitement incident to the late Presidential campaign, mortification over the result, and severe family afflictions.

New York, December 1.—The remains of Mr. Greeley were brought to this city from Pleasantville on Saturday evening and are now in the residence of Samuel Sinclair, publisher of the Tribune.

Mr. Greeley was born at Amherst, New Hampshire, on the 3d of February, 1811. . . . In 1831 he went to New York city without a dollar in his pocket, in search of work. . . . On the 10th of April, 1841, he issued the first number of the Tribune, with a start of 600 subscribers and a borrowed capital of $1,000.

DEER SEASON OPENS; SNOW AIDS HUNTERS

Harrisburg, Dec. 1 (AP)—Every deer hunter who could talk the boss into a day off, and thousands who already had a day of leisure to utilize, headed into the woodlands today to get the annual deer season off with a bang.

Game commission officials estimated that more than 400,000 licensed nimrods will move into the woods before the season closes on December 12.

Snow in most of the northern counties provided good tracking for the hunters and this coupled with the commission's report that deer were plentiful in most sections of the state gave every indication that the kill would be "the largest in years."

Clear and Cold

The weather in most parts of the state was clear, and cold, with the weather bureau predicting possible snow flurries in the higher altitudes. But the cold was not severe enough to deter the hardy hunters who took advantage of opening day.

All hunters were asked to wear plenty of bright red and to look before they shoot in a move to keep down the death toll for the twelve-day season.

With the close on Saturday of the small game season, plus the six day deer season that wound up last week, the death toll for the state stood at ten, with nearly 200 injured. It was one of the lowest tolls in years and game commission officials were hopeful that the deer season could pass without additional deaths.

Hunters this year will have an opportunity to engage in a one-day antlerless season on Dec. 13. Nimrods who failed to kill a buck during the regular season may try for an antlerless deer during the one-day season. However, anyone who kills a buck will not be eligible to kill an antlerless deer.

Last year the antlerless deer season was confined to a few selected counties, but this year the season is statewide and reports from the game commission's field officers indicate that there is a very definite surplus of antlerless deer in many counties.

Hunters are warned by the commission that during the regular season they are only permitted to kill male deer with two or more points on each antler. Deer with only one point to an antler are known as "spiked buck" and are not legal in Pennsylvania.

GRIM THREATS ON 'HOLY WAR' IN PALESTINE

(By The Associated Press)

Death, strikes, insults at the United States and grim threats of a holy war developed swiftly in the eastern Mediterranean today in the wake of a United Nations decision to partition Palestine, a move which incensed Arabs throughout the area.

Seven Jews were killed in the Holy Land. Four other persons were slain at the Syrian capital of Damascus during an attack on Communist headquarters and the cultural center of the Russians, who like the United States supported the move to create a Jewish state in part of the Holy Land.

The American legation in Damascus was stoned, its flag was ripped down, its shutters torn off and some of its windows broken.

Arabs Won't Submit

Shouts of "Down With the United States," "Down with the American University" and "Give us arms" rang through the streets of ancient Cairo. Students also cried out against Jews. The threat of holy war seemed implicit in utterances of Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the Arab league of seven nations with 33,000,000 Arabs. He declared the Arabs never would submit to partition.

"I cannot say where and when I will place my troops," he declared. "I can only say we will fight and are preparing for victory. It is a question of life or death. We never wanted violence or war. . . . Now our hands are forced to a definite course for which Palestine Arabs and the whole Arab world have no alternative."

To Use Oil Money

A Cairo informant said King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia had agreed to give oil revenues paid him by U. S. oil companies, estimated at $18,000,000 annually, to support Arab military resistance. There was no comment from the king.

The Arabs called for a three-day general strike throughout Palestine beginning tomorrow and tightened the boycott of Jews. Sixteen Arabs were wounded slightly at Acre prison when guards opened fire on prisoners attacking Jewish inmates.

Hagana, the Jewish underground army, was said to have 50,000 to 70,000 troops ready for battle. It called for mobilization of Jews, women as well as men, between the ages of 17 and 35.

The Jews celebrated throughout Palestine with parades, street dancing and display of national banners.

Third 'Friendship' Train Nets 208 Cars

Philadelphia, Dec. 1 (AP)—Loaded with 208 carloads of grain and flour collected by the third and final Friendship Train, the 10,000-ton Friendship, sailed on the first leg of its trip to LeHarve, France, where it will discharge its cargo for distribution to the hungry of France and Italy.

More than 500 persons gave the ship a rousing sendoff yesterday as it sailed from Philadelphia with the grain and flour brought here by three sections of the third Friendship Train which canvassed mid-western and southern states.

STRIKES HALT PARIS SUBWAYS; DEFY MEASURES

By MEL MOST

Paris, Dec. 1 (AP)—Strikes halted the Paris subway today and leaders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor defied the government's anti-strike legislation. CGT leaders summoned all workers "to action," asserting they would refuse to negotiate further toward ending nationwide walkouts if the legislation was enacted in the National Assembly.

Subways halted shortly after noon, when electrical power was shut off by strikers. Gas pressure was reported at "danger levels" in the capital and service was reported stopped at Nice, Marseille and Cannes.

The Assembly, which last night approved last Friday's call of 80,000 men to the colors to combat the creeping paralysis induced by the strikes, became such a well of tumult that it suspended for two hours its consideration of the strike law. Neither the chairman nor speakers could be heard.

Fights At Mines

With thousands stranded by the subway shutdown, Paris was plagued also by a strike at all six gas companies serving the suburbs. The concern furnishing gas to Paris proper continued service, although the pressure was reported only half normal.

Police and motorized armed forces opened roads in Northern France to struck coal mines, but few miners appeared to be returning to work. Fights erupted at Lievin when 700 miners tried, apparently without success, to return to work.

The majority leaders of the Labor Confederation, which is supporting the strikes which left 2,000,000 or more Frenchmen idle, issued a statement saying blanket increases of 1,125 to 1,500 francs (about $9.50 to $12) a month had been demanded effective today, but that the government had countered by proposing to increase the wages of those still at work by 300 francs (about $2.40) for November only.

OWNERS LIKE the KAISER and the FRAZER!

THEY WRITE FROM EVERYWHERE PRAISING PERFORMANCE, RIDE AND SERVICE

The Kaiser and the Frazer have been tried out in hundreds of millions of miles of motoring, by more than 115,000 owners. The verdict of these critical buyers is overwhelmingly favorable. Their experience adds up to such enthusiastic endorsement that more than half the sales we make result from owner recommendations!

These Voluntary Statements Are Typical of Thousands

All Around Satisfaction—"I purchased the first Frazer car sold in our town. It is the best automobile I have ever owned or driven—and that takes in a goodly number."—From a Hamilton, Mont., Farmer.

Effortless Driving—"I have never experienced such performance and effortless driving as I have since I became the owner of a Kaiser—wonderful to handle in traffic."—From a San Marcos, Cal., State Forester.

The Best Ride of All—"I have driven my Frazer 8,241 miles. On a recent 2,780-mile trip through Canada I averaged 26.6 miles to the gallon. I have owned and operated many different makes of cars over a period of a great many years and never until I bought my Frazer have I owned a car that was so economical and I can truthfully say that this car gives the best ride of any automobile I have ever owned."—From a Cranston, R. I., Physician.

Safety—"For comfort and safety, I am convinced—after 10,000 miles—that no other car in any price range can compare with my Kaiser."—From a Mayfield, Ky., Sgt.

These words are not only mine but those of service station attendants in many localities."—From a Peoria, Ill., Factory Supervisor.

TEN KILLED AS BIG PLANE HITS AUTO, CRASHES

Seattle, Dec. 1 (AP)—Seven persons were killed and 10 others critically injured yesterday in the fiery crash of a four-engine Alaska Airlines transport which overshot a runway at the Seattle-Tacoma airport and smashed a passing automobile.

Twenty-six of the 28 aboard the big plane scrambled from door and emergency exits or were pulled from the flames by rescuers. All, however, were sealed by the gasoline-fed flames that flashed through the wreckage. Four of the rescued died later.

The latest casualty was the plane's stewardess, Miss Reba Monk, of Santa Monica, Calif., who was created by survivors with having lost many of the passengers to safety.

—List of Dead—

The other dead are: Fred Smith, Tacoma, Wash., who died eight hours after the crash; Leslie Howe, 33, Seattle and Spokane, Wash., a carpenter, died in the hospital; Ole Ring, Anchorage, Alaska, died of burns and injuries; Mrs. Virginia Scitworth, 32, Tacoma, entertainer known professionally as Virginia Crawford; Gordon Johnson, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Palmer, Ala.; Mrs. Pearl Stella Jones, 43, Seattle, blind woman trapped in the car which the big transport smashed as it careened off the field onto the intersection of the Des Moines, Wash., highway and 158th street.

Ten others of the plane's passengers and crew members were in critical condition at Seattle and Renton hospitals. Several were not expected to live.

The plane, a DC-4, crashed only a few minutes after it had been turned back from an attempted landing at Seattle's Boeing field by fog. Two airport employees in the control tower at the Seattle-Tacoma field said the ceiling dropped to Pilot James Evan Paris, Seattle, as the plane settled through the overcast was "600 feet with one and one-quarter miles visibility." Three minutes after the crash, a special reading showed the ceiling at "400 feet with three-quarters of a mile visibility."

Harold K. Phillips, chief of the non-scheduled maintenance division for the civil aeronautics administration, sped to the scene for official inquiry and said: "Apparently the pilot ground-looped when he saw he was going off the runway."

Mrs. Jones, a widow and mother of a 9-year-old boy, was riding with a neighbor, Ira Von Volkenburg when the plane came plunging down a steep bank and swept the car across the road. Von Volkenburg said he escaped by kicking out a window and then groped in the smashed car without finding Mrs. Jones. He was driven away seconds later as the plane burst into flames and then was tracked by an explosion.

Big Crowd Greeted Cub Plane Flyers

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 1 (AP)—The round-the-world "diver" pilots, George Truman, 39, of Glendale, Calif., and Clifford Evans, 27, of Washington, D. C., were greeted by a crowd which police estimated numbered 5,000 persons when they landed at Sky Harbor airport here yesterday.

The two men had taken off in their cub planes from Van Nuys, Calif., at 1:04 p. m. (MST) and arrived here about 5 p. m. (MST). Their takeoff from Van Nuys was delayed for two hours by fog, they said.

They plan to take off from here early this morning for Amarillo, Tex., on the next leg of their round-the-world flight which started last August 9, at Teterboro, N. J.

Leftists Score Gain In Milan Dispute

Rome, Nov. 29 (AP)—Leftist organizations, which almost vaulted to power in the city and province of Milan yesterday during a bitter and forcible protest against replacement of the government today a promise that the prefect would stay on for the time being.

A communique issued from the prefect's office in Milan said a national government representative who hurried from Rome to handle the situation had arrived at an agreement with the leftists under which they promised to call off a general strike protesting the removal of the leftist prefect, Ettore Troilo.

A communique issued in Milan by the government representative, Achille Marazza, undersecretary of the Interior, said Marazza had "made amends x x x for the way in which the announcement of (Troilo's) transfer was made, acknowledging that it first should have gone to the interested party."

Gas Supplies Cut As Cold Wave Hits

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1 (AP)—Gas supplies for industrial users in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia were slated for a 25 per cent reduction today in the wake of frigid temperatures which strained facilities of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

Supplies to 150 industrial plants operating yesterday were slashed 50 per cent but the firm said predicted warmer weather today would allow a lesser curtailment.

Lowest mercury reading listed in the area yesterday was reported at Black Moshannon airport in Centre county where the thermometer recorded zero. Curwensville in Clearfield county had five above zero.

All main highways in the tri-state section remained open but cinderling probably because of cold weather, the Jiji Shimpou, a Japanese newspaper, noted today. "Shows depicting scenes in which a man chokes another to death are in vogue now."

Escaped Prisoner Returns To Jail

Reading, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—An inmate of the Berks county prison who escaped last October 26 in a prison guard's car, voluntarily ended his 39 days of freedom last night.

Deputy Warden Lewis Stuzel said he had just left the prison and was giving down the road from the jail when he passed the escaped prisoner, Edgar Hoeffcker, 36.

"I wondered why anyone was going over the hill at that time, so I turned around," Stuzel related. "When I got to the man, I saw it was Hoeffcker."

Stuzel said he told Hoeffcker: "Get in we're going back to jail."

The deputy warden said Hoeffcker remarked: "I was gonna deliver myself back. You can see that."

Ancient Shotgun Fatally Wounds Boy

Leesburg, Pa., Dec. 1 (AP)—The accidental discharge of a snail lodged in a century old shotgun Saturday night killed 12-year-old David Lee Bills.

State Policeman Joseph L. Young said David and a brother, Russell, 14, found two old guns at home. Each took one and fired a copper percussion cap to watch the flash in a darkened room. When Russell turned the lights on, he saw his brother slumped on the floor.

Mrs. Catherine Baker Bills, the boys' mother, said one of the guns—an ancient muzzle loader—held a single shell which her father had never been able to extricate.

AT LEAST SIX DIE AS FLAMES SWEEP BUILDING

Philadelphia, Dec. 1 (AP)—Flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men early today, leaving six known dead, 10 believed missing and at least 38 injured—many of them employed as street corner Santa Clauses.

Some of the victims were killed or injured in leaping from their quarters in the second and third floors of the Volunteers of America, Inc., as firemen—hampered by sub-freezing weather that turned the water from the hoses to ice against the building walls—fought vainly to prevent them from jumping.

Thirty men were listed as treated at three hospitals where doctors described a number of them as in critical condition.

Account for 51

Doctors at St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center said Stanley Buch, 45, died several hours after being brought to the hospital.

One other known dead was identified as:

Charles Kenney, 50; Thomas Wallace, 45; Michael Boyle, 50; Patrick Buch, 70, and William Sneed, 65. Their address was listed as the burned dormitory.

Assistant Superintendent of Police Thomas P. Burns said that several hours after the blaze was brought under control 51 men had been accounted for, including the five bodies that had been removed to the city morgue.

Fire Spread Rapidly

This left 10 or more still missing from the 61 or more believed by Night Watchman William Patterson to have been in the building.

The blaze was first discovered by Patterson at 12:40 a. m. (Eastern Standard time) and he ran through the first and second floors shouting the alarm. The flames—fanned by a high wind—spread rapidly through the four-story brick building which is occupied entirely by the Volunteers of America.

The organization, with headquarters in the damaged building at Oxford and Marshall streets, used the first floor for a shop in which new and repaired toys are sold during the Christmas season and furniture and clothing the remainder of the year.

Reporter At Scene Early

The second and third floors are dormitories for homeless men—many of them elderly and many of whom work as street corner Santa Clauses collecting donations for charity. The fourth floor is a repair shop.

Charles Berry, a reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer, who was one of the first to reach the scene, said he saw "four or five men jump from the second and third floors of the building."

"Several men were hanging at arm's length from window sills," Berry said, "and then let go despite the fact that by then firemen had ladders raised. One man was discovered a half hour later standing on the roof."

Clergymen were among those who rushed to the scene together with all available fire and police manpower and equipment from the northern portion of the city.

ENGINEER DIES

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1 (AP)—Harry McKee McCully, 61, author of engineering drafting texts and now at the Carnegie Institute of Technology department of drawing and descriptive geometry, died Saturday. His widow and four sons survive.

Chapter 14

Organizing the story of the gambling raids as O'Reilly and Hawkins telephoned it to her from the Cafe Castillo and Chez Biarritz, Jean drummed her typewriter almost without pause for two hours. Yanking each page from the machine as she completed it, she handed it to a copy boy. Having learned the severe discipline of writing under pressure and against time, she worked almost automatically, but with skill and care in every action.

When, at last, the first rush of copy had abated, Ross Mercer came to her desk.

"What a job you did—all three of you!" he said enthusiastically. "We haven't had a yarn like this for months. I'll dump the whole police department upside down—and what a play the papers will give it. Great!"

Jean managed a weary smile.

Hawkins and O'Reilly, looking quite as exhausted as Jean, walked into the office then with the final details of the raids.

"Great work," Ross told them. "Now I want each of you to do a roundup story—you can work out the division of it among yourselves—and stick your by-lines on them. You certainly rate all the credit we can give you!"

Within a half hour, they had completed their final stories on the spectacular raids. A dozen pictures, featuring the principal gambling-racket operators and the show-business celebrities caught in the raids, moved out with the stories on the picture-transmission circuit.

Hawkins leaned back to relax after the killing pace of the last three hours. He rubbed his knuckles absently, noticing that they were badly skinned. He sat bolt upright.

"Holy mackerell!" he cried. "Dawson! He must still be in the file room."

When O'Reilly, using a key borrowed from the telephone operator, opened the door of the file room, Dawson was decidedly conscious. He advanced toward them as they turned on the light with his eyes full of hatred.

"Thought you put one over, didn't you?" he rasped. "Well get this; I'm going to have a warrant sworn out for your arrest, Hawkins. I'll nail you for assault and battery, and maybe I can arrange to have a kidnapping charge tacked on it."

"I wouldn't do anything too hastily," cautioned O'Reilly.

"Who asked you to stick your nose in, fatso? You're in this as much as Hawkins. I intend to have you arrested for acting in concert."

"I still think it might be a good idea to move slowly," said O'Reilly with a mock gentleness. "I think I know a couple of reasons why you might not care to press those charges."

"Not press them?" echoed Dawson contemptuously. "Why, I'll push them to the limit!"

"That's interesting," O'Reilly remarked coolly. "But I think I ought to point out a few primary facts. First of all, you're in this gambling racket up to your neck."

"That's a lie!"

"No vehement denials, please," O'Reilly said. "The police got hold of a few books in the raid tonight that might clear things up. You're on them for unpaid losses of about $22,000. It might be interesting for the boss to know about that—especially since he's dead set against gambling for high stakes when you're here."

Dawson lost all his belligerence. Without another word, he stalked past O'Reilly, Hawkins and Jean, heading back toward his desk.

"I don't think we'll hear any more about those charges," O'Reilly said, grinning slightly.

Jean did not see the stories of the raids in the newspapers until late that night, when she awoke after a long, dreamless sleep. When she went to work, it seemed that everyone on the bus was reading the account of the raids and the police department upheaval that followed it.

There was a note for her in the office mail basket when she arrived. Signed by Howard Arter, it read:

"Raid stories swept front pages coast to coast. Congratulations, and what is more to the point, a raise in your next pay envelope."

The gambling story was still full of life, Jean discovered, as police headquarters poured out more news of police transfers that followed it. One inspector and two captains had been demoted, and five patrolmen went on the suspended list for their part in the graft.

Her desk phone rang as she was about to start rewriting the night's stories.

"Harry!" she exclaimed. "We're doing all right, if the bosses aren't kidding. Where are you—still rounding up racketeers?"

"No, thanks, I've had plenty of that stuff for a while; who's going to cover the entertainment news if I keep taking these interesting excursions?" He paused, adding: "It was a tremendously exciting assignment, just the same. You're easily the sweetest editor I ever worked with."

Jean laughed gayly.

"That kind of blarney would come more appropriately from an Irishman like O'Reilly—but I admit I'm lapping it up. By the way, what's done with Bill?"

"He tells me he is having two extra highballs tonight to celebrate the best story he's seen in years," Hawkins said. "He also told me he'd been threatened by some mug for helping to expose the gambling clubs."

"Threatened," Jean asked. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, some petty racketeer told him that he'd better leave town, or the gambling mob will have his scalp."

"Say, that sounds serious," Jean commented. "Has anyone made any threats to you?"

"Nothing worth mentioning. Some crackpot called me up on the phone earlier this evening, making a lot of ungrammatical comments about bumping me off," he admitted. "But he sounded so thick-headed I figure he'll probably knock himself off first by sheer stupidity."

Jean took a severe tone.

"Maybe so, but don't take any foolish risks. You ought to know that I've got to have you around for the next fifty years or so."

4TH WALKOUT IN UN ASSEMBLY IS ARABIAN REPLY

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The angry walk-out of the six Arab delegations from the United Nations assembly in protest against passage of the Palestine partition plan opened a new chapter today in the bitter majority-minority battle in the U.N.

It was the fourth time in the 11-week assembly that a defeated minority had attacked the victory of a majority and had refused to be bound by it.

The other three occasions involved the Russian groups, which declined to accept majority decisions creating the "Little Assembly" committee, the Balkans Watchdog commission and the Korean Independence commission.

Vote Was 33 to 13

The Arabs indicated their walk-out was meant only for the Palestine case, but spokesmen said yesterday they must await final instructions from their home governments as to how far their protest was to be carried.

Meanwhile, Arab opposition to the assembly-approved plan to create separate Arabic and Jewish nations in Palestine became violent in the Middle East. Syrian demonstrators stoned the United States legation in Damascus and Jews were killed and wounded in Palestine in outbreaks there.

The partition plan, sponsored by the United States and Russia, was approved by a 33 to 13 vote of the assembly late Saturday. Ten nations abstained and 31 were absent.

Speak and Walk Out

It was the only time the U. S. and Russia had worked together on an important matter in the entire assembly.

When the vote was announced three Arab delegates protested in individual speeches and then the six delegations strode from the room. Pakistan's delegation went with them, but there was no word from Pakistan whether it would adopt the same policy on discussing Palestine.

Paris El Khoury of Syria reaffirmed the Arab opposition to partition yesterday and told reporters that "we will see if the sponsors (apparently a reference to the U. S. and Russia) of the partition plan will send their forces to suppress resistance to their aggression."

MORE TIRE FOR YOUR MONEY

There's EXTRA VALUE in the Tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

It's time to measure what you get for what you pay. No matter what you buy, the measure of true worth is in performance . . . how long it will serve you.

In tires there are several yardsticks . . . mileage, protection against bruising and road shocks, resistance to skidding. In all of these, the B.F. Goodrich Silvertown gives you extra value.

Its wider, flatter tread which covers more road area, spreads the wear more evenly. The more tire in contact with the road also means more tread to grip . . . to prevent skidding. Beneath this better tread is a 35% stronger cord body built with sturdier cords and more of them to give better resistance to road shock and bruising.

All this Extra Value adds up to today's big tire buy . . . the postwar B. F. Goodrich Silvertown—the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

MAN IS ALMOST

before the fatal accident is alleged to have occurred.

Moss reported that the three victims were standing in the west traffic lane when Walker's west-bound vehicle struck them.

McDaniel was hurled into the center lane of the highway; Mrs. Foster was thrown onto the right shoulder of the road, and Mrs. McDaniel landed on the dividing line between the middle and right lane, police said.

The coroner quoted witnesses as saying they saw McDaniel try to get up from the highway shortly after being struck by Walker's car.

However, before he managed to stand, police said, the Breeden-driven car, which was also moving westward, approached and ran over McDaniel and Mrs. Foster as they lay on the road.

According to police, Breeden is married to a granddaughter of the deceased McDaniel. Breeden's wife is also a daughter of Mrs. Foster. Sell said Breeden was on his way to the Thomasville Inn to pick up the three persons, two of whom he ran over.

In Walker's vehicle at the time of the accident were his wife, Ruby, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Byron, of New Oxford.

The two women were taken to the York hospital in the Reliance Fire company ambulance of West York.

MISS TROSTLE

Hemier, as maid of honor. She wore a gold moire gown with nine velvet bows, and carried a colonial bouquet of gold and wine pompons.

The mother of the bride wore black with fuchsia accessories. The mother of the groom wore black with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of American Beauty rosebuds.

The bridegroom had as his best man, William E. Lau, Spring Grove. The ushers were Donald L. Trostle, brother of the bride, and Rufus Zartman, Jacobus.

The church was attractively decorated with palms and chrysanthemums.

Before the ceremony, Miss Miriam Keeney presented a recital and Mrs. Robert Wingert, Littlestown, sang "Ave Maria," "O Promise Me," and "Because." Miss Keeney also played the traditional wedding marches.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the church. The table was decorated with a three-tier wedding cake. The hostesses were cousins of the bride: Anna Kepner, Ruth Kepner, Darlene Trostle and Henrietta Brindle. Following the reception the couple left on a short honeymoon. The bride's going-away attire was a brown silk dress with brown accessories.

The bride was graduated from Gettysburg high school with the class of 1943. The bridegroom graduated from the Spring Grove high school with the class of 1938 and served in the Eighth Air Force with the Army Air Corps.

The bride is now employed by the Pennsylvania State Employment service, and the bridegroom is a salesman for the Armour Meat company. In a few weeks they will be at home at 246 Main street, Spring Grove.

and several bobcats had walked past Wolfe as he lay unconscious in the snow.

Found 15 Hours Later

Wolfe was found 15 hours after he was shot, early Sunday morning, by hunters in search of him.

Two horses, with a wooden plank lashed between them, were used as an improvised stretcher to bring Wolfe out of the mountains to the nearest hospital. He was then removed by ambulance 200 miles to the Minneapolis hospital.

Sportsmen's clubs throughout the state have raised a fund to be known as the Don Wolfe fund. The reports from there disclose, $1,000 is being offered as a reward, from that fund, for the finding of the man who shot Wolfe.

Sportsmen Raise Fund
Mrs. Eckenrode, who returned home over the week-end, said today that because it has been reported that Wolfe can recognize the man who shot him, the Sportsmen's clubs there have arranged for him to remain at the hospital under guard at all times.

Sportsmen from throughout the state sent large donations to help defray the costs of the treatment and to spur the search for the man who shot Wolfe.

He was critical until November 20, when he rallied and he has been improving since. On Thanksgiving Day he was able to be home with his family for about an hour. At present he is unable to move his legs but the physicians hold hope that the paralysis will soon disappear.

Fireman Dies After Fighting Fire Sunday

Greensburg, Dec. 1 (AP)—Stricken with a heart attack while fighting an apartment house fire, Volunteer Fireman Walter Glen Good, former YMCA secretary at Coatesville, died yesterday as his brother, Lloyd, also a fireman, continued to fight the blaze.

Fire Chief Joseph Rush, who estimated damage at $10,000, said the fire started when a six-year-old girl dropped her mother's cigarette lighter in the Charles Goldberg building on South Pennsylvania avenue.

Four families living in the three-story brick building were made homeless by the blaze.

Says Auto Driving Should Be Taught

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 1 (AP)—Amos E. Neyhart, of the Pennsylvania State college, told a safety session here that high school students should be given automobile driving lessons as "a matter of national necessity."

He told educators from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky: "You cannot laugh off figures which prove 17-year-old drivers have nine times as many fatal accidents as persons 45 to 50 years of age on a mileage basis. These youngsters not only have more fatal accidents; they also are responsible for the most traffic violations."

AT LEAST SIX
DIE AS FLAMES
SWEEP BUILDING

Philadelphia, Dec. 1 P—Flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men early today, leaving six known dead, 10 believed missing and at least 38 injured—many of them employed as street corner Santa Clauses.

Some of the victims were killed or injured in leaping from their windows in the second and third floors of the Volunteers of America building, as flames—hampered by gusting weather that turned the water from the hoses to ice against the building walls—fought vainly to prevent them from jumping.

Thirty men were listed as treated at three hospitals where doctors counted a number of them as in critical condition.

Account for 51
Doctors at St. Luke's and Children's Medical center said Stanley Busch, 45, died several hours after being brought to the hospital.

The other known dead were identified as:

Charles Kennedy, 50; Thomas Wallace, 45; Michael Boyle, 50; Patrick Allen, 70, and William Snead, 65. Their names were listed as the burned dormitory.

Assistant Superintendent of Police Thomas P. Burns said that several hours after the blaze was brought under control 51 men were listed as treated for including the 10 bodies that had been removed to the city morgue.

Fire Spread Rapidly
This left 10 or more still missing from the 61 or more believed by Next Watchman William Patterson to have been in the building.

The blaze was first discovered by Patterson at 12:30 a. m. (Eastern Standard time) and he ran through the first and second floors shouting alarm. The flames—driven by a high wind—spread rapidly through the two-story brick building which is occupied entirely by the Volunteers of America.

The organization, with headquarters in the damaged building at Oxford and Marshall streets, used the first floor for a shop in which new and repaired toys are sold during the Christmas season and furniture and clothing the remainder of the year.

Reporter At Scene Early
The second and third floors are dormitories for homeless men—many of them elderly and many of whom work as street corner Santa Clauses collecting donations for charity. The fourth floor is a repair shop.

Charles Berry, a reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer, who was one of the first to reach the scene, said he saw "four or five men jump from the second and third floors of the building."

Several men were hanging at arm's length from window sills, Berry said, "and then let go despite the fact that by then flames had licked around them. One man was discovered a half hour later standing on the roof."

Cargymen were among those who rushed to the scene together with the available fire and police manpower and equipment from the northern portion of the city.

Chapter 14
Organizing the story of the gambling raids as O'Reilly and Hawkins telephoned it to her from the Cafe Casillo and Chez Biarritz, Jean examined her typewriter almost without pause for two hours. Yanking each page from the machine as she completed it, she handed it to a copy boy. Having learned the severe discipline of writing under pressure and against time, she worked almost automatically, but with skill and care in every action.

When, at last, the first rush of copy had abated, Ross Mercer came to her desk.

"What a job you did—all three of you," he said enthusiastically. "We haven't had a yarn like this for months. I'll dump the whole police department upside down and what a play the papers will give it."

Jean managed a weary smile. Hawkins and O'Reilly, looking quite as exhausted as Jean, walked into the office then with the final details of the raids.

"Great work," Ross told them. "Now I want each of you to do a roundup story—you can work out the division of it among yourselves—and stick your by-lines on them. You can't really lay all the credit to me, can you?"

Within a half hour, they had completed their final stories on the raids. A dozen pictures, featuring the principal gambling racket operators and the show business celebrities caught in the raids, were sent out with the stories on the picture-transmission circuit.

Hawkins leaned back to relax after the killing pace of the last three hours. He rubbed his knuckles absently, noting that they were nearly cracked. He sat bolt upright.

"Hoi, man-of-war!" he cried. "Dawson! He must still be in the file room."

When O'Reilly using a key borrowed from the telephone operator, opened the door of the file room, Dawson was decidedly conspicuous. He advanced toward them as they turned on the light with his eyes full of hatred.

"Thought you put one over, didn't you?" he rasped. "Well get this: I'm going to have a warrant sworn out for your arrest, Hawkins. I'll nail you for assault and battery, and maybe I can arrange to have a kidnapping charge tacked on it."

"I wouldn't do anything too hastily," cautioned O'Reilly.

"Who asked you to stick your nose in, fadso? You're in this as much as Hawkins. I intend to have you arrested for acting in concert."

"I still think it might be a good idea to move slowly," said O'Reilly with a mock gentleness. "I think I know a couple of reasons why you might not care to press those charges."

"Not press them?" echoed Dawson contemptuously. "Why, I'll push them to the limit!"

"That's interesting," O'Reilly remarked coolly. "But I think I ought to point out a few primary facts. First of all, you're in this gambling racket up to your neck."

"That's a lie!"

"No vehement denials, please," O'Reilly said. "The police got hold of a few books in the raid tonight that might clear things up. You're on them for unpaid losses of about $22,000. It might be interesting for the boss to know about that—especially since he's dead set against gambling for high stakes when you're here."

Dawson lost all his belligerence. Without another word, he stalked past O'Reilly, Hawkins and Jean, needing back toward his desk.

"I don't think we'll hear any more about those charges," O'Reilly said, grinning slightly.

Jean did not see the stories of the raids in the newspapers until late that night, when she awoke after a long, dreamless sleep. When she went to work, it seemed that everyone on the bus was reading the account of the raids and the police department upheaval that followed it.

There was a note for her in the office mail basket when she arrived. Signed by Howard Arter, it read:

"Raid stories sweep front pages coast to coast. Congratulations, and what is more to the point, a raise in your next pay envelope."

The gambling story was still full of life, Jean discovered, as police headquarters poured out more news of police transfers that followed it. One inspector and two captains had been demoted, and five patrolmen went on the suspended list for their part in the graft.

Her desk phone rang as she was about to start rewriting the night's stories.

"Harry!" she exclaimed. "We're doing all right, if the bosses aren't kidding. Where are you—still rounding up racketeers?"

"No, thanks. I've had plenty of that stuff for a while; who's going to cover the entertainment news if I keep taking these interesting assignments?" He paused, adding: "It was a tremendously exciting assignment, just the same. You're eager."

the sweetest editor I ever worked with."

Jean laughed gayly.

"That kind of blarney would come more appropriately from an Irishman like O'Reilly—but I admit I'm lapping it up. By the way, what's doing with Bill?"

"He tells me he is having two extra highballs tonight to celebrate the best story he's seen in years," Hawkins said. "He also told me he'd been threatened by some mug for helping to expose the gambling clubs."

"Threatened?" Jean asked. "What do you mean?"

"On some petty racketeer told him to bet better leave town, or the gambling mob will have his snip."

"Say that sounds serious," Jean commented. "Has anyone made any threats to you?"

"Nothing worth mentioning. Some racketeer called me up on the phone earlier this evening, making a lot of ungrammatical comments about dumping me off," he admitted. "But he sounded so thick-headed I figure he'll probably knock himself off first by sheer stupidity."

Jean took a sever tone.

"Maybe so, but don't take any foolish risks. You ought to know that I've got to have you around for the next fifty years or so."

4TH WALKOUT IN UN ASSEMBLY IS ARABIAN REPLY

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
New York, Dec. 1 (P)—The angry walk-out of the six Arab delegations from the United Nations assembly in protest against passage of the Palestine partition plan opened a new chapter today in the bitter majority-minority battle in the U.N.

It was the fourth time in the 11-week assembly that a defeated minority had attacked the victory of a majority and had refused to be bound by it.

The other three occasions involved the Russian group, which declined to accept majority decisions creating the "Little Assembly" committee, the Balkans Watchdog commission and the Korean Independence commission.

The Arabs indicated their walk-out was meant only for the Palestine case, but spokesmen said yesterday they must await final instructions from their home governments as to how far their protest was to be carried.

Meanwhile, Arab opposition to the assembly-approved plan to create separate Arabic and Jewish nations in Palestine became violent in the Middle East. Syrian demonstrators stoned the United States legation in Damascus and Jews were killed and wounded in Palestine in outbreaks there.

The partition plan, sponsored by the United States and Russia, was approved by a 33 to 13 vote of the assembly late Saturday. Ten nations abstained and Siam was absent.

Speak and Walk Out
It was the only time the U. S. and Russia had worked together on an important matter in the entire assembly.

When the vote was announced three Arab delegates protested in individual speeches and then the Arab delegations strode from the room. Pakistan's delegation went with them, but there was no word from Britain whether it would accept the plan.

More Tire
FOR YOUR MONEY

There's EXTRA VALUE in the Tire that
OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

It's time to measure what you get for what you pay. No matter what you buy, the measure of true worth is in performance... how long it will serve you.

In tires there are several yardsticks... mileage, protection against bruising and road shocks, resistance to skidding. In all of these, the B.F. Goodrich Silvertown gives you extra value.

Its wider, flatter tread which covers more road area, spreads the wear more evenly. The more tire in contact with the road also means more tread to grip... to prevent skidding. Beneath this better tread is a 35% stronger cord body built with sturdier cords and more of them to give better resistance to road shock and bruising.

All this Extra Value adds up to today's big tire buy... the postwar B. F. Goodrich Silvertown—the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

SOMEONE MUST KEEP PEACE IN HOLY LAND NOW

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Now that the United Nations has approved the partitioning of Palestine into Jewish and Arab countries—a move desired by the Jews but bitterly opposed by the Arabs—this burning question immediately arises: Who is going to maintain peace between these two peoples who have engaged in so many bloody clashes during the past generation?

Somebody must police the Holy Land, Britain, who has announced that she is going to relinquish her mandate and withdraw from Palestine, has declined the task. So who tackles the job?

Don't Gamble On Bluff

There's no use challenging fate by advancing the wishful idea that the situation will take care of itself. Storm clouds continue to pile up. Yesterday in Cairo Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the seven-nation Arab league, declared his people (totaling 33,000,000) never will permit the U. N. to partition Palestine but will resist by force. Is he bluffing? Well, maybe, but I've spent considerable time among the Arab peoples in various countries and while I know they are quite capable of bluffing I wouldn't want to gamble that they are now.

Faris El Khoury, chief Syrian delegate and one of the spokesmen of the six Arab nations represented in the U. N., told reporters that the whole Moslem world will oppose the implementation of partition with all the forces they possess. El Khoury asserted that the Arabs considered any attempt to set up a Jewish nation as aggression against the Arabs, and then cut loose with this broadside:

"We will see if the sponsors of the partition plan (the United States and Russia) will send their forces to suppress resistance to their aggression."

Spiritual Heritage

That, I take it, was a rhetorical remark calculated as a rebuke to America and the Soviet Union, because if any troops are sent into Palestine to maintain peace it will be done at the order of the United Nations. The Palestine question is international, and must be dealt with accordingly.

It is up to the United Nations, having sanctioned partition, to see the matter through. Most certainly the U. N. should create a police force (which does not now exist) to maintain peace during the reconstruction period, and close observers who know the Middle East believe that this force should be moved into the Holy Land immediately. Now is the dangerous time. To leave Palestine unguarded would be to invite a Moslem Holy war. And once that got started there would be no telling how far it would run.

It is well that this great question should be in the hands of the United Nations, for after all it is a matter in which the world as a whole has a vital interest. Palestine is indeed a Holy Land, and not only to the Moslems and the Jews but to the whole of Christendom.

To the Jews and to the Arabs of Palestine is entrusted a spiritual heritage of mankind. The U. N. must help safeguard it.
